What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are used to store small pieces of information. The cookies are stored on your device when the website is loaded on your browser.

- Session cookies: They are placed by the website you are visiting and can only be read by the website it. In addition, the website may use external services, which also place their own cookies, so-called third-party cookies.
- Persistent cookies: They are stored on your computer and are not automatically deleted once you close your browser, unlike the above session cookies, which are deleted after closing your browser.

Each time you visit the EETT website, you are asked to accept or reject cookies. Thus, your preferences (eg. username and language) are saved for a certain period of time and you don't need to re-enter them during navigation.

Cookies may also be used to collect anonymised statistical data on the browsing experience of the EETT website.

How do we use cookies;

We mainly use first-party cookies. These are cookies placed and controlled by EETT and not by a third party.

However, in order to view some of our webpages, you have to accept third party cookies.

We use session cookies for the following purposes:

- Save your preferences.
- Improve our website's performance.

- Collect analytics data (about the user experience).

What are Necessary cookies?

Necessary cookies are absolutely essential for the website to function properly. These cookies ensure basic functionalities and security features of the website, anonymously.
